Sonoma Man Fatally Injured When Train Collides With Auto

New Paved Highway Is to Be Built Through Springs Section

TWO OTHER MEN IN CAR RECEIVE MINOR INJURIES

Antone Pugliese Succumbs Three Hours Later to Injuries Received In Accident

Antone Pugliese, a barber, employed by Tony Francheski of Sonoma drove his Ford car directly into an S. P. freight train at the Morris ranch crossing, Agua Caliente, Sunday afternoon with the result that he died later from injuries received and his two companions were painfully hurt.

Pugliese, Chas Brumani and F. Pedrani were coming from up the valley and after turning into the Caliente road, failed to note the approach of a train. The view of the track is obstructed at this point by heavy brush and trees and when the train was heard by one of Pugliese's companions it was too late to avoid the collision. The train, in charge of Engineer Schubert was made up of 60 loaded freight cars and when the motorists were observed by the railroad crew, the little car was right upon the engine.

Caught by the engine's cylinder, the auto was dragged 100 yards before the engine could bring his train to a stand still. Pugliese and Brumani were in the wrecked machine, the other occupant was hurled to the road at the point of the impact. When picked up by the train crew, Pugliese was still alive but revealed fatal injuries. Brumani miraculously escaped with a deep gash over his eye. Pedrani's injuries were superficial.

Dr. Thomson was summoned from the golf links near by and with Deputy Sheriff Ryan, had the three men taken to Sonoma where Pugliese died three hours later. Despite a broken pelvic girdle, broken ribs, injured spine and contusions, he was conscious to the last.

Engineer Schubert declares this to

SONOMANS IMPROVE THEIR SIERRA RESORT

Fred Batto and Joe Andrieux of the Summit Hotel in the high Sierras have completed extensive improvements which will add much to the winter comfort of their popular resort. Fred Batto and his contractor, J. Monk have recently returned from Summit and report the hotel crowded and unable to take all the guests who want accommodations. Among notables who desired to be quartered there this winter was the great film comedian, Charley Chaplin and company. The Summit Hotel had so many reservations and winter plans so laid out that they could not take these moving picture people, who will now go to Truckee instead.

A heating system, hot water system and massive granite fire place have been installed at the hotel by Batto & Andrieux. They have also put on storm tight doors and windows, all the improvements being to make comfortable the regular guests, and those who come for winter sports such as skeeving, sleighing and tobogganing.

Local School Bonds Bring $222 Premium

Guaranteed Sale of Grammar School Bonds Results In Substantial Saving To Taxpayers.

The trustees and taxpayers of the Sonoma Grammar School District are much gratified over the demand for and sale of the recently voted school bonds. The 5 per cent bonds found ready sale and brought a premium of $222, the lucky bidders being Bond, Goodwin & Tucker of San Francisco.

Through the interest of the Valley National Bank, which guaranteed to purchase 5 per cent bonds, if voted for the school improvement, the taxpayers save one-half of one per cent for 25 years on the $25,000 issue. Ordinarily the bonds would have been 5 1/2 per cent as the market some months ago was unresponsive to any bonds of this character bearing less interest. The guarantee of the local bank made possible quite a saving. The better tone of the market this month brought out nine bidders for the Sonoma securities. The Valley National offered a premium of $101 but was outdistanced by other takers.

Chief Cause To Return Nov. 20

Chief Cause, who has been the guest of Chief Houston of Cincinnati, Ohio, and who has also visited relatives in that city, got a nice notice in the Cincinnati Times-Star of Nov. 2nd. The article follows:

A plea to citizens of Cincinnati to pass the extra tax levy and put their fire and police departments back to their full quota of men and equipment is made by a Californian. He is Fire Chief W. B. Cause, of Boyes Springs, Cal., but formerly lived in Cincinnati.

"I was greatly surprised when I returned to Cincinnati several days ago for a vacation and visit to relatives and found the fire department so short of men and equipment," he told Fire Chief Barney J. Houston. "Why, back in 1884, Cincinnati had more firemen than it has today, and in those days the department did not have as many suburbs to protect as it has now. Many of them had their own fire protection.

"The people of Cincinnati had more pride in their police and fire department than they seem to have today. Cost did not seem to figure. The fire department was kept in the best possible condition and the same applied to the police force. Citizens pointed with pride at the equipment and the men."

Mr. Cause, in writing the Index-Tribune declares he never knew he had so many Eastern relatives and that they have been treating him royally. "Guess they thing Uncle Billy is a millionaire from California," declares the Chief, who sure looks like ready money when he gets on his uniform and the beautiful testimonial badge which was a gift of F. Partidge, of El Verano.

Mrs. Whitmore is planning to move to San Francisco where her daughter Herschel is employed with the Telephone company.

Advantages of Sonoma Valley As Location for Studio Will Be Shown Visitors.

That Sonoma Valley's claims to advantages for moving picture production are not going unnoticed is seen by the visit here during the past week of C. W. Humphries and Miss Crichon of the Redwood Film Company, Inc., and the coming today of Josh Binney, widely known in the film world, and Florian Fischer, his personal representative.

The Josh Binney Company has a contract to produce ten pictures for a leading film company and have become interested in the Coney Island property and surrounding attractions as outlined by the Sonoma Business Men's Association. Thirty representative citizens will entertain them at lunch today at a local hotel and will show them over the Baron property. Mr. Humphries of the Redwood Film Company was taken over the ground by Messrs. Carter and Clewe and the gentleman expressed himself as deeply interested in the advantages Sonoma presents for a moving picture center. He was impressed with out historic buildings, scenery, the hills, Broadway, and the fine improvements on the Baron property. The big pavilion would need some changes as to the roof, he declared, but was otherwise well adapted for a studio. The provisions made for electric lights and power were found to be excellent. Mr. Humphries' company plan to produce some rural gossip plays and he believes "Main Street" stores and characters such as Sonoma could depict would play to big money.

The Josh Binney representatives will come from Marysville to meet the Sonoma business men and should arrive by noon to look over the Valley of the Moon as new background for their comedies.

MISS BLANCHE MORSE RESIGNS FROM BOARD

Blanche Morse, former Berkeley school ma'am and erstwhile superintendent of the State Farm for Delinquent Women at Buena Vista, has resigned from the Board of the defunct institution. She was an appointee of ex-Governor Stephens and although unexperienced in the rehabilitation of drug addicts and delinquents she fell into a $400 per month job. Miss Morse sought to perpetuate the institution which she established and ran here, but her effort to get a fat appropriation from the Richardson economy administration failed. While away lobbying at Sacramento for the appropriation, the main building of the Farm burned down with the result that the institution was recently abandoned. All salaries were lopped off except that of the caretaker.

Superintendent Morse then found herself with only an honorary position as a trustee of the Board, which still exists but does not function. Duncan Mattheson of San Francisco is a member and continues to work for the restoration of the Farm. Miss Morse decided to devote her talents to more remunerative employment, and resigned.

An effort is being made by Captain Mattheson to have the club women of California raise $60,000 to restore the buildings and care for 50 women at the Farm.

Sonoma Constable Attends The Races

Constable John Mohr, a lover of the racing game, went to the new track at Tanforan last week where he witnessed some good races. Mohr praises the new plant put up by the Spreckels to revive interest in blooded horses and says the game there is run clean and along strictly professional lines. Sonoma's constable was a stepson of the late Harry Stover, owner of many famous horses and he was brought up to love the ponies.

SONOMA FIRM MAKES FINE CHEESE EXHIBIT

The exhibit of cheese entered by the Sonoma Mission Creamery at the recent Pacific Slope Dairy Show in Oakland attracted much attention to Sonoma Valley as a dairy locality and won the praise of the directors and management of this third annual exposition of California products.

The following letter has been received by Joseph Vella, of the creamery, relative to his firm's participation:

"November 8, 1923.

Sonoma Mission Creamery.

Gentlemen:

"The directors and management of the Pacific Slope Dairy Show Association wish to express to you our deep appreciation for the fine contribution you made to the educational exhibit of cheese.

"Many visitors to the Show stated that the cheese exhibit was the finest they had ever seen. The fact that so many varieties of such fine quality of cheese are made in California was a real surprise to the general public. I think it will mean something to you in a business way.

"With this goes also the personal appreciation of C. A. Phillips, Instructor in Dairy Industry, University of California, who was in charge of the cheese exhibit.

"ROBERT E. JONES,
"Manager."

Mrs. Fernandez Is Home From Hospital

Mrs. Joe Fernandez, wife of the well known orchardist is home from a San Francisco hospital where she has been under treatment for some time past. Her home coming will be good news to many friends of the young matron. Mr. Fernandez and the three children have missed her greatly but have been the recipient of many kindnesses from neighbors and friends, among the latter, the Native Daughters, of which Mrs. Fernandez is a member. The patient is said to be improved in health since her treatment in the city.

Appointed As Acting Postmaster

Marian Lovett Greene Gets Appointment to Boyes Springs Office Pending Examination.

The Boyes Springs post office will not have to go begging for a new post master. With the announcement that a vacancy existed and that an examination was to be held to fill the office, candidates galore signified their intentions of trying for it.

The present assistant, Mr. McMahon, thought he might be the only contender and that he had the job cinched, but when it became known that he intended to park the post office in the new grocery store to be built by E. A. Wagner, all the other grocery store keepers got busy and decided that they would try to land the post office. Postage stamp sales lead to pork-and-bean sales and love letter inquiries increase pickle sales, so naturally the store keepers want to serve Uncle Sam's patrons, even if the salary of post master itself is not very remunerative.

Applicants to date include N. Kramer, Mrs. H. W. Greene, nee Lovett, of the Woodleaf Store; McMahon and a whispered dark horse.

Marian Lovett Greene, proprietor of the Woodleaf, was officially named as acting post master at Boyes this week. The appointment was received from Washington and was in Mrs. Greene's maiden name, her application having been on file for some time. The clever young business woman plans to take over the office as soon as the papers can be fixed up, although Tom McMahon, present post master pro tem claims his bonds were accepted by the Department and that he will hold on until after the examination decides who is to be permanent post master at Boyes. The matter has been referred to the Post Office Department, which will referee the scrap.

Two Fine Lectures Booked For March

Dr. Frederick Monsen, the traveler and explorer, who gave a number of lectures some years ago here, has been booked for two evenings early in the spring of 1924.

He has written his friend, Dr. W. B. Hays, from his home in Pasadena, that he will give two dates to Sonoma and will appear at the Sonoma High School auditorium, where he will show his marvelous pictures, "Observations In South America," and "Egypt."

Since his last visit to Sonoma, the distinguished traveler has been in Europe, Asia and Africa. He has visited King Tut's tomb and secured remarkable pictures.

The lectures will be something to which Sonoma folks can look forward with genuine interest and pleasure.

Drive For Red Cross Members Is Started

The annual roll call for the Red Cross is on and you are urged to join the great humanitarian agency. Just recently we have seen the effective and splendid work done for fire sufferers in the Sonoma and Napa Valleys. The response to the Japanese catastrophe was magnificent. Join now.

BIDS FOR ROAD ARE ASKED BY HIGHWAY COMMISSIONERS

Schellville-Santa Rosa Road Unit Bid Is Advertised by State Highway Commissioners.

The state engineer was instructed by the State Highway Commission in session at Sacramento Monday to advertise for bids for the construction of 4.3 miles of paved highway and 4.3 miles of graded gravel road between Schellville and Beltane in Sonoma Valley, this being the second unit of the Schellville-Santa Rosa state highway. It is the plan of the commission to pave the distance between Schellville, through Boyes, Fettes and Agua Caliente Springs and to construct a gravel road the remainder of the distance, the latter to be paved when finances again permit.

The Black Point road also awaits surfacing from Fairville to the Napa county line, although at the present time it is kept in excellent shape and is praised by travelers.

New Warehouse Indicates Expansion

The El Verano warehouse of M. F. Mullen on the S. P. siding has been purchased by Batto & Son and will be the nucleus for a new plant in the chain of warehouses for the pioneer mercantile firm. The El Verano warehouse, to be known as No. 7, will have a capacity of about 400 tons. It will house hay, grain and coal and be a receiving and distributing point for that end of the Sonoma Valley. The new location gives Batto & Son the S. P. facilities which they lack at the Vineburg warehouses and will enable them to give increased service to their customers. In addition to the Vineburg, Sonoma and El Verano branches, the Sonoma Valley firm has also a large warehouse at Modesto.

"PLAY DAY" WAS A SPLENDID SUCCESS

The first "Play Day" to be inaugurated in Sonoma Valley under the direction of Myra Green, county supervisor of physical education and Americanization, was a splendid success. Almost every district in Sonoma Valley was represented with pupils and teachers. During the morning hours the 500 children present were divided into their respective grades and played speed ball and other games, such as ring game, singing, etc. designed for the various years.

Philip Beklund, Supervisor of Agriculture; Miss Green; County Superintendent Louise Clark, and Miss Towle, Supervisor of Reading, were present and were highly gratified with the response and co-operation from teachers and pupils of the local schools.

Group play proved very attractive to the children and their elders and it is hoped to have other big meets in the future.

Mrs. Julius Poppe has been in Los Angeles visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Kruger.

EL VERANO NEWS

By ARCHIBALD McKIVER

The Native Daughters' Armistice dance given at Sonoma last Saturday evening was a grand success. Local and outside communities sent large delegations and all enjoyed the dancing and fine music furnished by the California Grays. All voted the ladies of Sonoma Parlor clever entertainers and wonderful dancers.

Four applicants have signified their intention to take the examination for the Boyes Springs post office, following the resignation of Mrs. Wagner, the present postmaster, and it is rumored that others will also enter the race. This adds great interest to the examination, which will be held in Petaluma Nov. 24th. Sonoma Valley people are impatiently waiting to see who will land the plum. The Boyes Springs post office building was recently destroyed by fire.

Mrs. P. Verdier and daughter are spending several days in the bay cities, shopping and visiting.

Mrs. J. Staudinger and Miss Annie Millettello of San Francisco, and also William Sutter were guests at the Sutter home Sunday.

Captain and Mrs. Muldowney of San Francisco spent Armistice Day at their El Verano home on Nob Hill. Jim Harrington, new Schellville section foreman, was in town Sunday, looking our city over. Mr. Harrington likes the Valley of the Moon. He moved here from Napa Junction.

A. L. Gale, S. P. station agent at this station, made a return trip to San Francisco Tuesday.

Sheriff and Mrs. John Boyes were motor visitors from Santa Rosa Sunday, stopping over at Boyes Springs before returning home.

Miss Irene Dowdall and brother, Bill, were Monday morning passengers for Concord.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hunt of Sacramento motored over Sunday and spent the day at the A. W. Weaver home.

Tom Myleahy, who 30 years ago worked on the Schellville section, and is now an employee of the city of San Francisco, was a visitor here the first of the week at the M. F. Mullen home.

The new Sonoma Vista club house which was recently destroyed by fire is to be rebuilt, and Contractor Josey will start work on the new structure Monday.

Mrs. Phil Rossi was a Sunday visitor in Fairfield, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Al Rossi.

The coming of J. Batto & Sons to El Verano will be welcomed. Mr. Batto, who recently purchased the Mullen warehouse, at the S. P. yards, will build a 30 foot addition and make this a distributing point for delivery of feed to patrons in this end of the valley.

Miss Stella McGill, who has been visiting at Antioch, has returned to her home in El Verano.

Miss Elaine Clark, of moving picture fame, is visiting relatives here from Los Angeles.

Conductor Hildebrand of the S. P. Santa Rosa line, is now in San Diego. He has been ailing for some time and has gone to the southern city, for the benefit of his health.

George Cavaglia, Sonoma Valley's Beau Brummel who acted as announcer at the Coney Island fight pavilion last Friday evening, did his stuff well. He could be heard far from the arena, his voice carrying all the way to El Verano. Our old friend George is there as a spieler and reminds us, in his brilliant new role, of the late Billy Jordan internationally famous in the old days. "Let 'er go" George wore a Prince Albert coat and plug hat and was cheered for his work in telling the large crowd who was who among the fighters. Tom Caulfield was the third man in the ring and the audience pronounced him a good referee. In all, it was a good evening of sport, with the boxers all trying hard to win, and everyone was satisfied with the evening's show.

Charles Lane was renewing acquaintances here last week. He is now a traveling man and resides in Santa Rosa. Judging from Charley's appearance his job agrees with him.

Railroad Detective O'Dowd of the S. P. Company was in town last week looking over the scene of the recent S. P. depot robbery.

Eddie Healey, San Francisco politician and former candidate for supervisor, who now holds a fat political job in Sacramento, was recently renewing acquaintances in El Verano.

John Lewis and sister, Mrs. Ben Streeter and Miss Irene Dowdall were week end visitors in San Rafael.

Mrs. George Bruns and daughter of Haywards were the guests of the A. L. Gales over Sunday.

Joe Kearney was a Saturday morning S. P. passenger for Oakland where he visited his daughter, Mrs. Aubrey.

Edmond Debats has departed for San Francisco, where he has a position as head bootblack at a Market Street stand. Debats made his start shining 'em up in El Verano and our social lions will miss him on dance nights.

Harry Rogers, well known cowboy has been over from Petaluma, a guest of his old friend, Sam Howe.

E. Sobbe, N. W. P. employee, was a recent visitor at the Weaver home. His many El Verano friends were glad to see him.

All roads will lead to the Dowdall Ranch in the western foothills Sunday, Nov. 18. A turkey shoot will be pulled off on this day. High power and .22 calibre rifles will be used and a large number of fine birds will be up for prizes. A large crowd of lovers of this sport will no doubt be present. On the following Sunday a shoot will be given by the same promoters at the El Verano pool hall.

Carl Weaver and Louis Geschwindt after a two months trip through the United States and Canada have returned to El Verano. The boys had a wonderful time and camped along the way. No trouble was had with their car and they encountered good roads on their long tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Woodworth and family of Woodworth brothers' resort on Mt. St. Helena, motored down to El Verano early Sunday morning to call for Mr. and Mrs. J. Steckmeyer and family. From El Verano they went to Santa Rosa, where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Johnson and the party then went to Bodega Bay for the day. Everyone enjoyed the trip, the day being beautiful for an outing. There was just sufficient wind to make the huge, foam-crested waves break with a noise of distant thunder on the beach in a manner highly appreciated by those who live inland. A delicious lunch was done full justice to by the picnicers. The party stopped in Santa Rosa and had lunch with the Johnsons on the way home, and reached El Verano about 8:30 p. m. The entire party was greatly pleased with their trip and plan to take another in the near future.

A bucking, jumping mule startled the natives of our village Tuesday in the quiet of a peaceful morn. The mule, which had been brought here for shipment, in some manner gained it freedom. As the owner approached him, the long-eared animal ran at him with his mouth open, in an attempt to bite him. Failing in this the mule turned quickly and lashing out with his feet, kicked the owner on the hand. The engineer of the freight train then descended from his cab, whereupon the mule made several passes at him, but missed. After being chased about the village for some time, the animal was caught and loaded in a box car. The owner says this is the first time in several years that the mule has indulged in such deadly antics. White mule? No, this was a black one.

WOODLAND BOOZE

BEATS OUR BRANDS

The Woodland Mail, a prohibition organ, has a fertile imagination when describing booze, as follows:

There was something of a commotion created at the court house yesterday and the result may be far-reaching. Justice of the Peace R. W. Harrison and Constable LeRoy Hillhouse have been gradually accumulating a collection of booze evidence. Yesterday was housecleaning day and the old booze was disposed of. It was decided that the only proper disposition of it was to dump it into the sewer, but it was recognized that it was dangerous stuff to handle.

Hillhouse pulled the cork from a bottle of Chinese gin and succeeded in doing so without accident, but when he proceeded to pour it into a wash bowl, it was found that the cement covering of the bowl dissolved in the liquid, which also soon began to eat a hole through the cast iron of which the bowl was constructed. By turning on a liberal flow of water and thus diluting the liquid, it was disposed of without further damage to the building or pipes.

A gallon demijohn of jackass brandy furnished a different problem, for it was no sooner uncorked than the volatile nature of the stuff filled the entire building with its fumes and it was feared last night that the plaster in the court house might disintegrate.

These two experiments proved so costly that the great accumulation was taken out of the building and poured into a drainage basin in the open air.

Nothing further was thought of the matter until returns began to come in late last night from the sewage farm. These were to the effect that the fumes of the mixed liquors were so overpowering that whole flocks of wild ducks soaring overhead were falling to earth. It was too dark at that time to determine how great the slaughter had been, but it was believed that by this morning the country in that vicinity would be sprinkled with hundreds of dead birds.

NICE, ISN'T IT?

Mrs. A. L. Phillips, president of the Petaluma Women's Club, accompanied by a number of club women, went to San Quentin one morning last week where Mrs. Phillips gave an address to the women prisoners on "The Idyls of the King," which is the first of a series of lectures to be delivered by her to the women confined in the prison. At the conclusion of the lecture a program was rendered consisting of vocal and instrumental selections.

DRY DISCRIMINATION DE LUXE

It might create more confidence in the prohibition program if the word of reputable citizens and property owners was taken in preference to that of crooks or fly-by-night government hirelings when a question of veracity is weighed by those in authority.

There is pending at the present time before Commissioner Rutter the case of a prominent Sonoma wine manufacturer accused by Federal agents of illegally selling 36 gallons of white wine. One of the accusers proved to be a crook and is now doing time in San Quentin, but his co-worker has sufficient influence with the prohibition high chief to keep the case of the Sonoma man hanging fire.

Taking the word of the duo, one of whom was a notorious extortionist, a reputable citizen is being subjected to rack, his business tied up, his future made uncertain. As a result community progress suffers, for the man who is a victim of this prohibition probe holds many plans in abeyance until dry officials decide whose word is to be taken—a convicted crook and his fellow-informant who say the Sonoma man peddled 36 gallons of non-kickless grape juice, or the defendant who can furnish countless references of square dealing, good citizenship and character, and holds a government permit to ship and sell carloads of wine. What reason was there for him to traffic in 36 gallons?

There is a glaring reason why government agents like Convict Perucci should seek to involve the Sonoman. They have not only succeeded in involving him in the toils of the law, but we now have the interesting spectacle of beholding Chief Rutter giving his agents aid and comfort while making it appear that a man not proven guilty of any crime is culpable and liable to be deprived of his permit to market his goods in legitimate channels.

Holding up business and tying up community progress by such unfair tactics is the worst kind of a hold-up and disgusts even friends of prohibition who know that glaring cases of booze peddling go on daily in Sonoma and that Rutter's agents might have gone after such instead of hitting at a big, legitimate industry and hampering a man who is a public benefactor. If there is any public benefaction about this sample of law enforcement, we are from Missouri. Looking at it from many angles, the majesty of the law is not exalted nor is confidence in the prohibition end of it engendered by such cases as this.

THE CARQUEINEZ BRIDGE

In the new Carqueinez Bridge proposition the public has an instance of the necessity for small investors in public utility projects. Promoters of big enterprises such as this are often asked why they seek to interest the individual investor or the man of small means when they might go to a regular financier, bank or investment concern. In the American Toll-Bridge instance, the bridge has already been started and financing of it underwritten by Eastern capital, but the people of Sonoma and other counties are being interested in buying stock in it because their interest is what will popularize the bridge and ultimately make of it a big dividend payer. The sales promotion of stock is advertising the new connection between our valleys and the great territory across the Carqueinez Straits and in addition to those merely knowing about it, there will be hundreds boosting for it by the time the bridge is open to traffic. Every participant in the profit possibilities of the big span will, in football parlance, root for it, and will also route all the business possible through this channel.

The Carqueinez Bridge is conceded by everyone to be one of the most important improvements now pending. We all take stock in its future, which is assured.

With some of our neighboring cities sprinting for the Christmas trade here, it behooves Sonoma merchants to tell the buying public what they have to offer. The merchant who advertises not only makes business good for himself, but for the entire community. Patronize the home storekeepers who advertise their goods and you will make no mistake.

Do your Christmas shopping early. Where? In Sonoma. Just where?

With the advertisers. They want your business and will treat you right.

ARMISTICE DAY AND THE KAISER

While we celebrated Armistice Day in the United States, we read that the Kaiser was preparing to re-enter Germany to retake the throne which had become an intolerable elevation immediately preceding and following the armistice declaration in the World War. Lots of Americans still wonder why the Allies ever thought of an armistice before Germany had been thoroughly invaded and Berlin captured. In short, why didn't we finish what we started?

Just why the German people have had to go through with what they have and why the country was left intact for the Hohenzollerns is really hard to understand. One thing is certain the German people were not ready for self government, despite lots of Socialistic propaganda to the contrary. The mailed fist seems to be needed, after all. Providing the people are willing to tolerate it and it is held over their heads only and does not reach out over more subjects, we should sympathize, but not worry.

Re-assertion of German power with the precedent set by the United States is significantly fatal, however, to Senator Johnson's theory of American isolation. We want no more war, but we do want a substitute for the settlement of problems which at any time may jeopardize world peace. Isolation is a theory for political purposes mostly.

TRUSTEES WARMING UP TO IMPROVEMENT

The local City Council believes that grown-ups have to be warmed up in order to make good library patrons, and imbibe learning out of books. So they have ordered a heating system for the Sonoma Public Library. It is all right to get hot in the collar about something you read, but better distributed warmth makes for cooler judgment and predisposes to more research, wherefore the City Trustees have shown wisdom. The reading public will appreciate comfort and the improvement will popularize the library. Now for new books for the nice cozy library which Sonoma is to boast.

SONOMA'S NEW BAND STAND

Sonoma is to have a band stand and the recent appropriation for it made by the City is a forerunner of regular band concerts. Encourage the local band in every way possible, for concerts will be a community asset and the Plaza will fulfill the mission for which it was intended by its donor General Vallejo. Whether we enjoy Von Suppe, rave over Wagner or keep time to Souza, all music lovers will enthuse over the prospects of regular concerts from a well constructed band stand in our park, for a park it is to be.

The appointment of Sam Merk of the City of Burlingame to the State Board of Control is a good one. Governor Richardson has appointed another editor, yes, but Mr. Merk is primarily an educator and interested in education. He taught school, has been interested in the school system of California and as a journalist has proven a most constructive, educator of the public. Intelligent, enthusiastic, energetic, keen and not of the politician type is the new appointee. We presage success for Mr. Merk and congratulate the State on acquiring him in the official family.

Tell the storekeepers you expect to get information about good buys in Sonoma by reading their ads in the Sonoma papers.

The effort of Sonoma Valley boosters to get the moving picture industry here is to be commended. Now let us all co-operate, whether day laborer, shop keeper, farmer or capitalist.

At a practice game in Tomales on November 9, Sonoma's 130 pound basketball team won from Tomales team by a score of 16 to 10. Sonoma's unlimited lost to Tomales 16 to 10. The school mates of Everett Murphy were sorry to hear that the popular Sophomore had the misfortune to break his arm while cranking his machine last Tuesday.

Some time in February or March, Charles Paddock, world's champion runner, will talk before the Student Body and the public. All students are eagerly looking forward to his appearance.

KENT PUT UP A GOOD FIGHT

At the boxing card at Coney Island Pavilion on Friday night of last week Crab Jones was no match for Joe Golden in the main event. Golden handled Crab about as he pleased and put him away in half of the first round.

In the semi-windup, William Kent the woodchopper, lost a close decision to Jackie Miller. This was the best fight of the evening.

Kent, who formerly was a boxing partner of Jack Dempsey, fought in the East under the name of Jack Smith. He showed a burst of his old speed in the first round, at Coney Island, but after that proved muscle-bound compared to Miller, fresh from city gymnasium training. Kent's game fight, however, and evidence of cleverness, won the crowd. When the referee gave him the axe and said "back to the woods" it was a disappointment to the fans, who would have liked to have seen a draw decision.

ANNOUNCING

The Tire Shop

(FORMERLY THE SONOMA VULCANIZING WORKS)

An Established Firm With A New Idea of Sales and Service

IT IS evident that the old system of selling Tires and Tubes has failed. The volume of sales is now too large to be juggled around in a haphazard manner. Therefore, manufacturers' retail price lists have been abolished.

In the larger cities the individual retailer has a sufficient number of customers to maintain one brand of tires, but in smaller communities where auto owners have a preference for different brands, the selling cost mounts up rapidly. So in order to increase the volume of my business, I will stock the well known and reliable tires for which there is a popular demand.

In this way I plan to double my volume of business without increasing overhead expenses, which will mean a big saving to the consumer. Tires and tubes will be sold like any other staple line of goods or merchandise.

Quality goods at right prices will tell the tale.

I respectfully solicit the tire business of the automobile owners of Sonoma Valley and I pledge them the best merchandise and service at the lowest possible prices.

POULTRY HOUSE PLANS

(By MELVIN W. BUSTER)

The Poultry Division and the Agricultural Engineering Division of the College of Agriculture of the University of California have recently prepared very comprehensive poultry laying house plans for distribution. The shed roof type poultry house recommended by the Poultry and Agricultural Departments is the result of years of detailed study of poultry housing at the Davis station with the view to perfecting a type of house which would supply poultry the most favorable environment at a minimum cost. Being of the shed roof type it is more simple to construct than a house with a gable or half monitor roof, and all rain water is turned to the rear, eliminating all roof drip in the front.

The high front admits a maximum of sunlight. The low rear wall offers a minimum of exposure to cold north winds. The high front and low rear walls make possible effective ventilation without dangerous drafts. The roosts are located in the most protected part of the house against the rear wall and under the lowest part of the roof. The fowls are therefore well sheltered on cold nights yet have ample ventilation on warm nights.

In addition to drawings of different sections and views and detailed specifications for all materials required in the house recommended, the plans which are furnished by the university contain also a discussion of housing under the topics of the advantages of a shed roof, ventilation, how to face the house, fowl capacity, lumber, the painting, concrete and wooden floors and yards.

Poultrymen planning to construct new houses or desiring to make changes in their present houses may obtain these plans free of charge by applying to the Farm Advisor's office at the Court House, Santa Rosa.

Considering the comfort and well being of the hen and consequent returns therefrom, as well as the size of the poultry industry here in Sonoma county, we are possessed of entirely too few sensible and up-to-date poultry houses, particularly from a standpoint of admitting sunlight and providing good ventilation. Consequently it is more difficult to keep flocks in good health and more costly to provide proper sanitary conditions. A dark, poorly ventilated house naturally needs to be cleaned and sprayed more often.

The poultry industry has been established here a long time and naturally it is good business to make the best use possible of all old buildings which are still good. However, there is little excuse for a poultryman, n making changes in his poultry houses or building new ones, to follow an old plan used years ago merely because most of the houses in his district may be built the same way or because the carpenter knows how to build only one type or because some friend has the same house and likes it, unless it is a good plan.

These plans provided by the university are put out to assist the poultrymen in constructing the very best poultry house possible considering all factors, at the lowest cost. In some cases a poultryman may desire to eliminate certain things or substitute others in the construction to suit his own conditions or special desire. In many cases poultrymen may be able to make improvements in the plan to suit his own particular conditions. The plans should be used as a guide but are thoroughly satisfactory for all practicable purposes in constructing a good modern poultry laying house.

Service will be held at Trinity church, Sonoma, Sunday, November 18th, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. William Short of Santa Rosa will officiate. All members and friends are welcome.

Following her death, he married a well known school teacher of Burlingame, where he has built up a splendid newspaper business and is highly regarded as a community leader.

REAL WILD ANIMAL PICTURE AT FETTERS

The jungle film, "Hunting Big Game in Africa," will be shown at Fetters Theatre tomorrow night (Sunday). The picture is the actual experience of H. A. Snow and son, the explorers, and is replete with knowledge of animal life and thrilling episodes.

Says a press notice: The Universal production, "Hunting Big Game in Africa," is carefully distinguished by local play-goers from the usual run of descriptive, zoological or travel films. It is an amazing record of fearsome adventures in the African wilds far from well fortified stockades and bomas of pleasure hunters on the familiar shooting grounds near the Coast. The Messrs. Snow suffered hardships and perils almost incredible but they brought back a picture that delights everybody.

Mrs. Douglas Church is here on a visit with her daughter.

Everybody in this part of the Valley is looking forward to the Thanksgiving dance of the Y. M. I. in Sonoma. The fine music to be furnished by the California Grays and the number of holiday guests who will be in the valley Thanksgiving eve assures a big attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Kellar were Napa visitors Wednesday.

The Joe Keisers attended the photograph at the Hippodrome in Napa this week.

A VANILLA JAG

(From Petaluma Argus)

On Saturday afternoon of last week Police Chief Flohr arrested an aged Indian, who lay in a drunken stupor in his buggy at the Mary street hitching rails, having imbibed too freely in vanilla extract. He had emptied two 8-ounce bottles and had two more filled with the stuff in his buggy, the labels declaring the vanilla to be 40 per cent alcoholic. The Indian stated that he was 85 years of age. His squaw, aged 93, completely paralyzed, barefooted, ragged and dirty, was in the buggy with the aged tippler and after the man was lodged in the city prison, Chief Flohr had to go back and drive the outfit to the city hall and those who saw him had plenty of fun at his expense. The chief had to care for the aged woman at the city prison and had to feed their horse and the faithful dog which guarded the rig on a vacant lot near the city hall until the man was sober enough to leave with his wife and outfit for the potato fields at Bloomfield where he will dig potatoes despite his 85 years. The vanilla extract remaining was confiscated by the chief.
